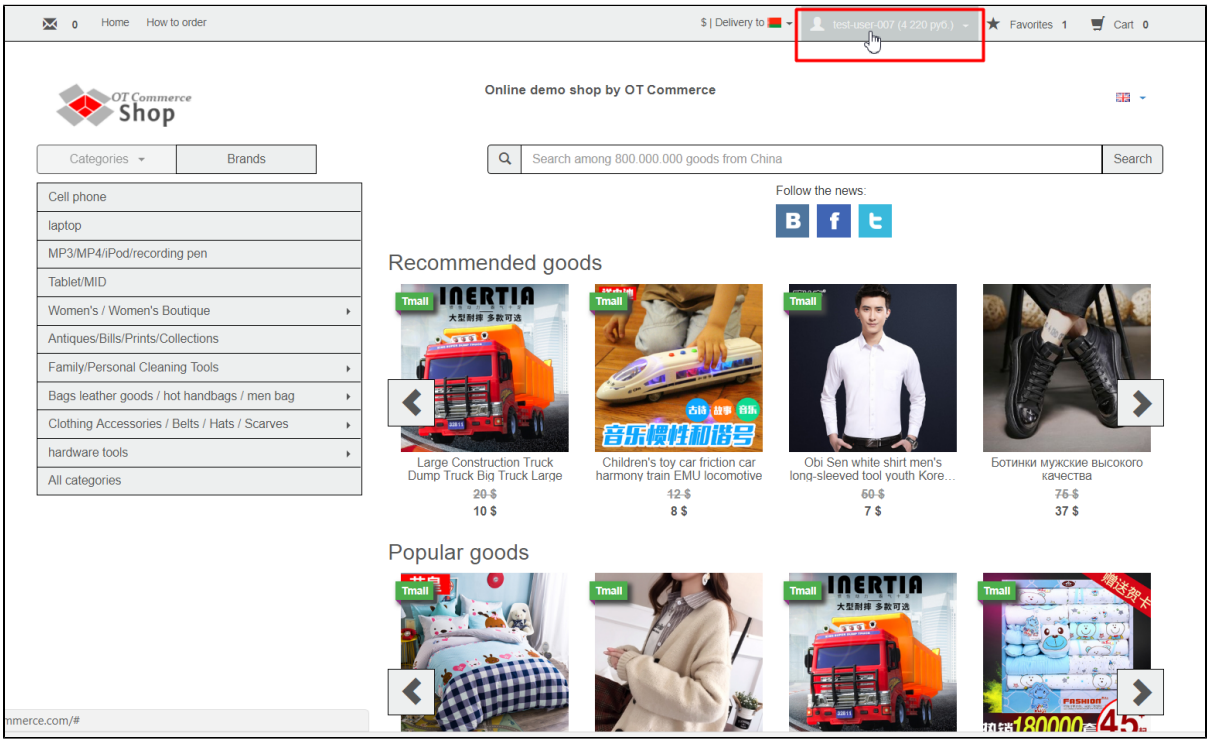
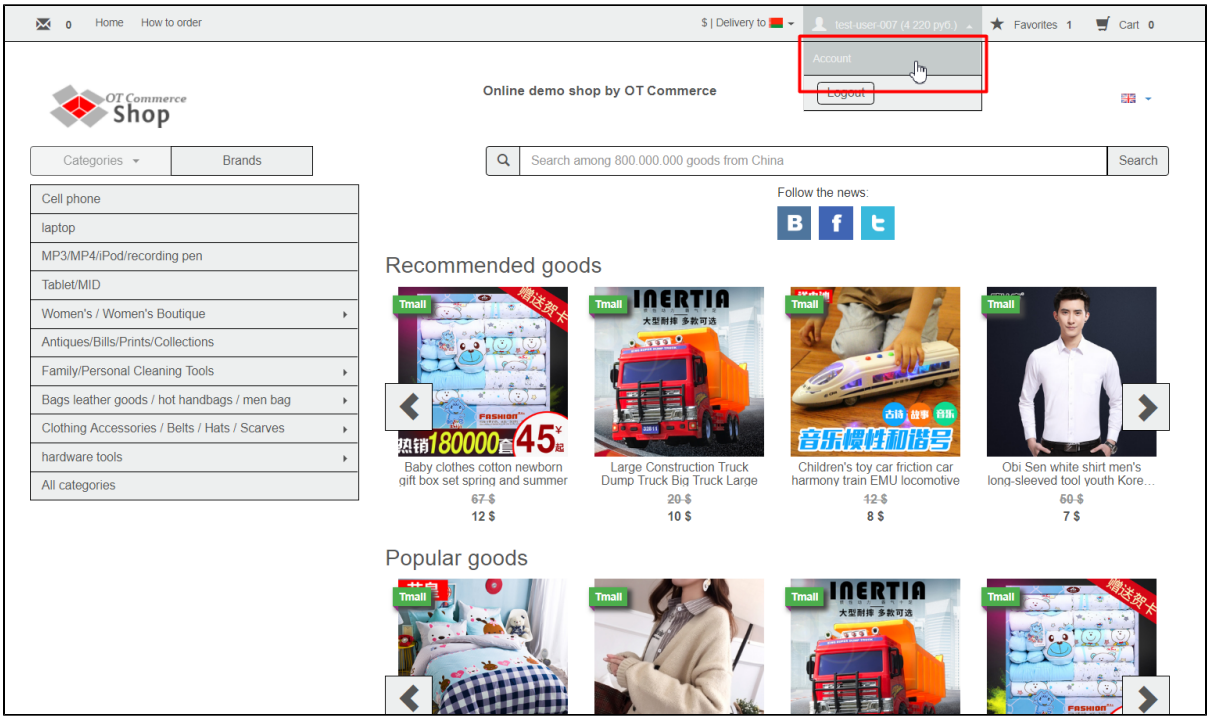
Customer's Personal Account Documentation




The customer's Personal Account contains complete user information, orders and monetary operations data, shipping addresses and messages sent to the site support. Through Personal Account the customer is enabled to refill his/her account, pay for the orders, track the orders processing status, apply for support. To start using the shop please login and get access to your Personal Account.